

17-21 October 2015

ETHICS TEACHERS TRAINING COURSE

THIS COURSE WILL BE DELIVERED IN ENGLISH WITH LIMITED CHINESE SUPPORT

For University Teachers of Ethics

The Course is based on a five-day training program developed by UNESCO in collaboration with global experts in ethics education. The course contains the following key components:

1. Global Perspectives on Ethics Teaching
2. Ethics Teaching in Action
3. Classroom activities and communication
4. Examples of ethics teaching in Asia and local adaptation

Applicants should be involved in teaching (including social and environmental ethics) or developing bioethics courses at university level, with preferably a Masters degree in a related discipline and must be able to understand English. To apply send a completed application form, letter of recommendation and CV to Shenzhen.ETTC@unesco.org no later than 31 August 2015.

United Nations
Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization

UNESCO curriculum

One week course

Free Tuition

Limited places
Applications close 31
August 2015

Venue BGI Shenzhen China

Trainers:

Prof Renzong Qiu (CASS/Peking Union Medical College)

Prof Leonardo de Castro (NUS)

Prof Manal Bouhaimed (Kuwait University)

UNESCO REGIONAL UNIT FOR SOCIAL & HUMAN SCIENCES ASIA-PACIFIC
(RUSHSAP)

920 Sukhumvit Road
Bangkok

www.unesco.bkk.org/rushsap

email:

Shenzhen.ETTC@unesco.org